Mission 1: read the club grid

Draw a square grid with four columns A, B, C, D from left to right and four rows 1, 2, 3, 4 from bottom to top. A coordinate gives the column first and row second. Put the Club at A1, the Tree at B3, the Pond at D2 and the Bench at C4. Each label belongs in one square. This is a pretend puzzle map, not directions for a real journey.

Worked example

B3 means column B and row 3, so it is the Tree. C4 is the Bench. Moving from A1 to B1 changes the column but keeps the row. Try finding the label at D2; it is the Pond.

Try it now

Name the places at A1, B3 and C4. Then name the coordinate of the Pond. Answers: Club; Tree; Bench; D2. Point to the column and row for one answer.
