ORIGINAL PRINTABLE BOOK

Tara and the Leaf Bridge

An illustrated story about listening, testing and helping - with eight activities.

By SanjAI Matta

Ages 5-7 | English | A4 PDF

Read • create • explore

FREE SAMPLE · BookChowk

START HERE

Hello, explorer!

Read a new story about Tara the snail and Pip the bird. Then retell it, draw, invent and talk. Story pages are 3-10; activities are 11-18; the grown-up guide is page 19. Shared reading is welcome.

Use a pencil and crayons. A grown-up can read the instructions aloud. Try one page at a time; you can stop and return later.

Print on A4, single-sided, at Actual size / 100%. Use Fit if your printer clips the margins. Colours are optional; all activity pages work in black and white. The PDF is not a fillable form.

First edition: 17 October 2026. Original text, puzzles and vector illustrations created for this book, with AI assistance and editorial checking. Published under SanjAI Matta. Seller: Sanjay Matta / BookChowk.

© 2026 SanjAI Matta. You may print for children in your own household. Do not resell, upload or redistribute. Digital download only; paper and materials are not included.

FREE SAMPLE · BookChowk

STORY 1 OF 8

A small stream

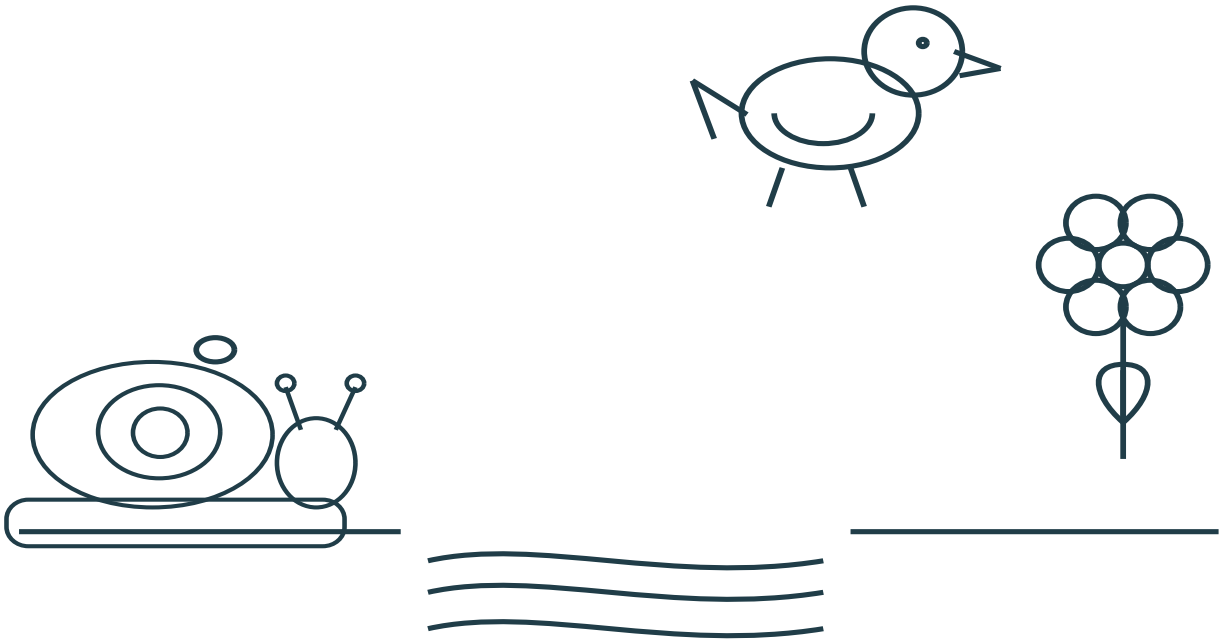
Tara the snail carried a blue pebble to the meeting tree. Today, each friend would bring one thing for a story circle. But rain had made a stream across the path. Tara stopped at the edge.

FREE SAMPLE · BookChowk

STORY 2 OF 8

An offer from above

Pip landed beside Tara. “I can fly your pebble across,” said Pip. Tara shook her head. “Thank you. I want to bring myself too.” Pip folded his wings. “Then we need a way for you to cross.”



FREE SAMPLE · BookChowk